

Dr. Lynne Richardson Bio

Dean Lynne Richardson came to MSU from Indiana's Ball State University where she served six years as dean of the Miller College of Business. Before joining the Ball State faculty, she had been associate dean and professor of marketing at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB).

She holds a B.B.A. from the University of Montevallo, an M.B.A. from UAB and a Ph.D. from the University of Alabama. Her areas of specialty include leadership and professional selling.

She is a married mother of 3 children, ages 14, 12 and 11 and an active member of her community.